New testing center location opening February 5

Dear Members of the Yale Community,

The Yale COVID-19 Testing and Tracing Program continues to encourage all members of the Yale community who will be on campus to take advantage of free access to asymptomatic testing. Regular testing continues to be a key part of our overall strategy to reduce the spread of COVID, especially in light of the increased prevalence of new, more transmissible viral variants.

There are a few important changes that we would like to share with you for the second semester.

- A new test site located at 109 Grove Street (Rosenfeld Hall) will open on Friday, February 5.
 - Please note, the testing entrance is located on Temple Street.

- Complimentary parking spaces are available along Temple Street before you reach Grove. (Temple Street is one-way headed south into New Haven.)
- The Lanman Center testing site is CLOSING after Thursday, February 4, to allow for expansion of the vaccination program. Appointments previously scheduled at the Lanman Center for dates after February 4, will be moved to the 109 Grove Street location and individuals will be notified via MyChart.
- The Grove Street location will provide the same high-quality experience you have come to expect at Lanman, with increased capacity for both asymptomatic and symptomatic testing.
- Individuals with a testing requirement will continue to see their assigned testing location(s) when logging in to schedule at covidtesting.yale.edu; others may test at any of the asymptomatic sites listed below; others may test at any of the asymptomatic sites listed below, which they can also schedule through covidtesting.yale.edu.

Testing Hours and Locations

ASYMPTOMATIC TESTING

SYMPTOMATIC TESTING

109 Grove Street (Rosenfeld Hall):

- Afternoons, by appointment only, scheduled through the Campus COVID Resource Line (203-432-6604).

As always, we ask that you DO NOT self-schedule a test if you have symptoms, but to call the Campus COVID Resource Line (203-432-6604) to schedule a same-day or next-day symptomatic appointment. Additionally, especially in the cold weather, it is doubly important to blow your nose prior to testing to avoid a TNP (test not performed) result that would require a repeat test.

For problems with scheduling, contact covidtestinganalytics@yale.edu or 203-432-9000.

For questions about symptoms or other COVID-related concerns, call the Campus COVID Resource Line at 203-432-6604.

Thanks for your ongoing commitment to a healthy Yale!
