June 25, 2021

To all graduates in December 2019 and May 2020,

I am pleased to invite you to your long-awaited commencement ceremony. On May 14, 2022 from 10:30 to noon on Old Campus, Yale will hold a formal university commencement ceremony to recognize your accomplishments and the degrees you earned. Please mark your calendars for the weekend of May 13 to 15, 2022 during which you will have the opportunity to join in all the pomp, circumstance, and celebration of an in-person commencement.

On the afternoon of May 14, the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences will hold a special reception for our graduates and their families. I hope to see you then, and will send more information as our plans develop.

Although the pandemic delayed your in-person ceremony, I am delighted that you and your guests now have the opportunity to attend commencement celebrations.

With best wishes,

Lynn Cooley

Dean, Graduate School of Arts and Sciences

Vice Provost for Postdoctoral Affairs

C.N.H. Long Professor of Genetics

Professor of Cell Biology and of Molecular, Cellular & Developmental Biology
